The Town Goes "No"

The referendum held yesterday on the appropriation of $389,194 for a new high school unit was an overwhelming victory for the "no's". The vote of the limited town meeting, the Committee on Additional High School Accommodations, the School Committee and the Finance Committee was reversed by an 1879 to 475 vote.

A two-thirds vote was necessary to approve the vote of the town meeting because of the bond issue necessary to float the project. The two-thirds vote and more went the other way in spite of determined efforts on the part of those in favor of the new plan.

As was requested in the petition to the Selectmen by the opponents of the new high school plan, a special town meeting will now be called by the Selectmen to see whether the town will vote to provide additional high school accommodations.

WARREN L. BISHOP SPEAKS AT FLAG DAY EXERCISES

The annual flag day exercises held by the Arlington Lodge of Elks on the lawn of the Elks' Home last Saturday afternoon, drew quite a large crowd to hear Assistant District Attorney Warren L. Bishop of Middlesex County deliver a patriotic address.

The committee in charge of arrangements was under the direction of Louis Sonia as chairman. He also told of the history of the national flag. The whole company enjoyed singing patriotic songs. Exalted Ruler Daniel P. Barry introduced Mr. Bishop.

Congregationalists Call Rev. Laurence L. Barber

The Orthodox Congregational church has unanimously called to its pastor Rev. Laurence L. Barber, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church in Nashua, N. H. The call has been accepted and Mr. Barber will come to Arlington in September.

The pulpit committee—Charles T. Stanisles, chairman; Stanley R. Oldham, Frank W. Wunderly, Earle S. Lewis, Mrs. Everett E. Brainerd, Miss Edith M. Fox, Mrs. Wilson D. Clark, Jr., and Mrs. E. E. Bacon—have all heard Mr. Barber preach and were unanimously in favor of calling him. He has occupied the Arlington pulpit once and all who heard him and who met him at the informal reception, which followed the service, were most favorably impressed.

Mr. Barber, who is forty-two years old, is a graduate of Yale University, 1910, where he was awarded special honors, and of Hartford Theological Seminary, 1913, where he received a prize in Ecclesiastical Latin.

His state activities include the following: Member State Sunday School Trustees, Faculty of Northern N. E. School of Religious Education, State Executive Committee of Christian Endeavor, Trustee of N. H. Congregational Conference.

His National Service—Elected by National Council, Springfield, Mass., seven years ago director of Church Extension Boards. In denominational reorganization of Boards four years ago elected a Director of all seven Homeland Societies. At present secretary of the Board of "Making a Living and Making a Life"

Dr. McCarthy expressed himself as privileged in being allowed to join in the happy occasion which was quite rightly marked with ceremony as an outstanding event. He took as his subject, "Making a Living and Making a Life". His delightful talk is difficult to report as, like Pope, he "lisped in numbers, for the numbers came". He said, however, that the first charge upon us is making a living, and it is to that end that education is largely directed.

We must not, however, forget that life is more than living, that "A man's life does not consist in the abundance of things he possesses". The touchstone of success is the development of spiritual powers, the building of a dependable character, one that is fair, friendly, kind and just. One who has done most with his talents has made the most of his life and making a life is more than making a living. In conclusion, Dr. McCarthy told the graduates that it is incumbent on them to make a living and to live it.

IT COSTS LESS TO OWN A GENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

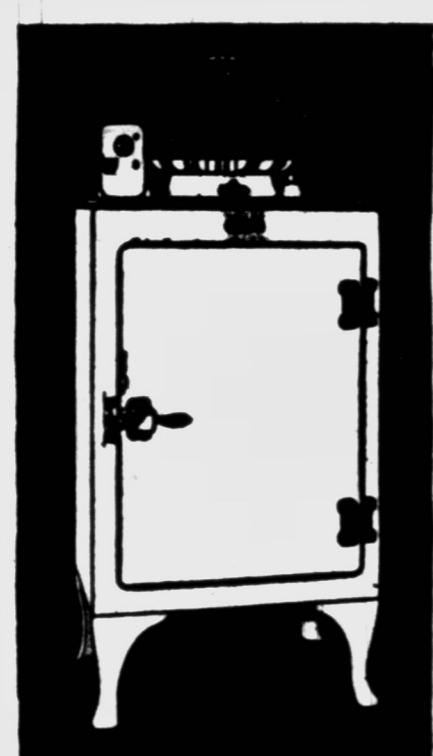

A General Electric Refrigerator costs comparatively little to buy in the first place. And it costs surprisingly little to operate... only a few pennies a day. It uses less current than any other refrigerator because all of its mechanism is on top.

Another thing you'll like about it is that it soon pays for itself through savings in ice bills, and in foods ordinarily wasted.

In over three years, not one of the hundreds of thousands of owners has paid a single cent for service. The first cost has been their last cost.

Our conveniently spaced terms make it easy for you to own a General Electric Refrigerator. Come in and let us demonstrate its many superior advantages.

D. 1930, and by mailing, forthwith, by registered letter to the libellee at her last known residence an attested copy of said libel and of this order theron: that she may appear in said Court within one month from said commence date of publication, and show cause, if any she has, why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

Witness, JOHN C. LEGGAT, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this sixth day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty.

LORING P. JORDAN, Register.
The foregoing is a true copy of said libel and of the order theron.

Attest,
LORING P. JORDAN, Register.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex:

RESPECTFULLY libels and represent Charles Edwin Lay of Arlington in the County of Middlesex, that he was lawfully married to Clara Lineberg Lay now of Detroit, Michigan at Sherbrooke Province of Quebec, Canada on the third day of October A. D. 1883 and that he and his wife, Clara Lineberg Lay, did reside together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit: at Melrose, Massachusetts, Everett, Melrose and Somerville and later lived to Boston, Massachusetts, and that at the time of his marriage he was a man of good character and that his wife was a woman of good character, and that his wife had always been faithful to their marriage vows and obligations, but the said libellee being wholly responsible for the same at Melrose, Massachusetts, he and his wife separated, and did desert him, and has continued such separation from that date of date hereof, being more than three consecutive years, prior to filing this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that no previous libel for divorce nor petition for separate support has been brought by either of the parties) that there have been no children born to them, and that no children are living, and no minors.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony between your libellant and the said libellee be granted.

Dated be this 26th day of May A. D. 1930.

SPORTSTHREE ARLINGTON MEN MAKE ALL MYSTIC VALLEY

Three Arlington High School men were mentioned on the All Mystic Valley baseball teams, in spite of the poor showing which the local team has made this season. Edmund Gallucci, Arlington's star first baseman, was selected for the first team in his regular position, and Lester Barrett and Walter Dorrington were elected to the second team. The former played at second base and the latter in left field.

On the holiday, Gallucci played with the All Mystic Valley team against the All Suburban team in Watertown. The town men beat their city rivals, 3 to 2 in the tenth inning. Pendergast and Weaver of the All Mystic Valley team held the opponents to four hits between them. Gallucci was credited with only two times at bat, being walked twice. He made no hits, but he made 11 put-outs.

Gallucci is probably the best athlete in Arlington High School. He was a star on last year's football team and at the close of the season was elected to lead the local football team next fall. He was also the chief support of Captain Davidson on last winter's basketball team. His baseball prowess is very well known.

LESTER BARRETT ELECTED CAPTAIN OF BASEBALL TEAM

Lester Barrett, veteran second baseman and one of the heaviest hitters on the Arlington High School team, was recently elected to captain the 1931 nine. He will be a senior next fall.

Barrett was undoubtedly one of the best players on the team of the past season. His work at second base was good enough to land him on the 2nd All Mystic Valley team picked by Boston newspapers. He showed his worth in his sophomore year when he easily landed a regular berth in spite of the fact that there were older players out for the position. He also played on the hockey team last winter in several games.

WINCHESTER C. C. TEAM CLINCHES SECOND PLACE

The fourball league was closed Wednesday afternoon as far as the Winchester Country Club teams were concerned. The team split even with Charles River on the Newton course to retain its slim hold on second place in the league. The second team was not so successful. It had a great chance of winning the league lead, since Charles River was in first place with a lead of six points, but that opportunity was all shot when Charles River won, 11 to 1. Instead of winning first place, that terrible defeat shoved the second team back into third place and Brae Burn moved up into second.

In the first team matches, Chase and Wood held the famous Murphy-Arnold combination all even. Incidentally, in this match there were three members of the Harvard golf team doing battle. Eddie Murphy and Bill Arnold were both on this year's team and so was Ben Wood.

Jackson and Eaton held Carpenter and Hodder all even. Corwin and Bob Goodale crashed through to win all three points, but Hendrick and Nazro lost all three to Hopkins and Craven, making the total, 6 to 6. Charlie Eaton of Winchester was also a member of the Harvard team; so there were four of the six members of the collegiate golf team playing altogether.

The second team matches went as follows: Newman and Connors (W), 0; Monroe and Bourne, 8; Barton and Walker (W), ½; Forte and Doupe, 2½; Wood and Goodale (W), 0; Souder and Schmidt, 3; Fisher and Goodale (W), ½; Cook and Cuttle, 3.

GOES TO CALIFORNIA FOR LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Miss Elizabeth Newton, librarian emeritus of the Robbins Library, left Monday for California, where she will attend the convention of the American Library Association. She left Boston with the party of librarians and will make the trip west with them, going by way of the Grand Canyon. After staying a week in Los Angeles, she and a friend will leave the party and go to San Francisco. She will visit southern California and the Yosemite Valley and will return by way of Utah and Colorado. She expects to return the last of July.

ST. JOHN'S WINS CONTEST AT PICNIC OF CHURCHES

St. John's church and the Church of Our Saviour held their annual Union Picnic at Vose's Pond in Sudbury on the 17th. For several years these two churches have been holding such Union Picnics, and this was the largest and best up to date. Six buses were required to transport the picnickers, besides many cars. Athletic events between the two churches filled up most of the day for the younger people. The baseball game for boys was won by the Church of Our Saviour, 10 runs to St. John's 9; girls' baseball, St. John's 17, Church of Our Saviour, 13; men's baseball, St. John's 7; Our Saviour, 5. The track events for boys and girls were run off according to the ages of the contestants. These events included 50 and 100 yard dashes, wheelbarrow race, crab race, potato race, running broad jump, standing broad jump, running hop, step and jump, swimming race, swimming under water for the boys; and for the girls 25 and 50 yard dashes, balloon carrying race, balloon bursting race, potato race, swimming race. In these track events St. John's captured 19 first places, 14 seconds, 12 thirds, while the Church of Our Saviour got 10 firsts, 15 seconds, 15 thirds. Each first scored 5 points for the winner, second place, 3, and third, 1. Both the boys' and girls' baseball games counted 15 for the winning team, while 25 points went to the winners in the men's game. The final score of the day's meet stood, therefore, St. John's 189, Church of Our Saviour, 125.

FIREMEN GIVE EXHIBITION DRILL AND SHOW TRUCK

Arlington firemen put on a fine show at the Highland Station last night for the citizens of the town. Lieutenant Richard Tierney directed an exhibition drill, putting the men through thirty evolutions and demonstrating the use of apparatus.

The center of attraction was the new service truck, put into commission Wednesday, which has already found a place in the hearts of the men and they exhibited it proudly. Indeed, some admiringly adorned it with a bouquet of flowers. The flood lights, whose power comes from a generator of 2000 watt capacity, carried on the truck, were turned on and the method of using the inhalator, which replaces the old fashioned pulmotor, and the deck gun, or deluge pipe, were demonstrated.

Special guests, greeted by Chief Daniel Tierney, included the members of the Board of Selectmen and of the Board of Public Works, Town Treasurer and Mrs. Charles A. Hardy, Town Counsellor White, also the fire chiefs from Brookline, Cambridge, Winchester and Somerville.

O'BRIEN—HENNESSEY

The wedding of Miss Mary Hennessey, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hennessey of 33 MacFarlane street, St. John's, N. F., and Wilfrid A. O'Brien of 11 Nourse road, took place Sunday afternoon at St. James church. The double ceremony was performed by Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D.

The bride wore white crepe de chine and a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Mrs. Ann Jagger, who is her life long friend. Mrs. Jagger wore pale lavender with a matching hat. Joan Neville and Eva Stephen were the flower girls. Martin J. Bilafer was best man. The reception followed at 11 Nourse road, the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Martin J. Bilafer. Here the decorations were white and orchids.

The bride is a graduate of St. Patrick's Convent, St. John's, Newfoundland. Mr. O'Brien is the son of Mrs. Peter O'Brien of Cape Broyle, Newfoundland. On their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will take a short honeymoon trip to the White Mountains. They will live in Boston.

HISCOE—PERKINS

Miss Elizabeth Perkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Archer Perkins of 201 Kempton street, New Bedford, and Dr. Kenneth B. Hiscoe, the son of Mrs. O. M. Hiscoe of 39 Fairview avenue, were married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at 39 Fairview avenue by Rev. Francis Bingham, White of Somerville.

The bride was gowned in white satin made in period style. She wore a veil of old family rose point and duchess lace and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. Attending her as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. L. Rutgers Porter of North Dartmouth. The groom's brother, Dr. Henry J. Lupine of Brockton, acted as his best man. The wedding music was played by Miss Louise Perkins.

The bride is a concert pianist and assistant teacher to Heinrich Gebhard. She is a member of the Chromatic Club and the Prelude Club of Boston. Dr. Hiscoe is a graduate of Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, Kirksville, Missouri, and is on the clinical staff of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital. He belongs to the American Osteopathic Association. He is also a member of the Winchester Country Club, the Boston Square and Compass Club, Charity Lodge of Masons, Cambridge, and of the International Council of Iota Tau Sigma, an osteopathic fraternity.

Dr. and Mrs. Hiscoe will be at home at 39 Fairview avenue after the first of July.

BENNETT—WHITE

At a nuptial mass at St. James church, Arlington Heights, Tuesday morning, June 17, at 9 o'clock, Miss Alice Katherine White became the bride of Vincent Byron Bennett of West Medford. Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D., officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

Some two hundred guests were present at the ceremony. The church was simply decorated with flowers and palms. The musical selections prior to the mass, the wedding marches and accompaniment were played by Emma Roche, organist of St. Patrick's church, Watertown, and Raymond Dragan, violinist. Vocal selections during the service were sung by Howard Hayes, tenor soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Robert J. White, wore a period gown of white chiffon over satin, with chiffon train. Her veil was arranged with a cap of lace and was ornamented with clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white sweet peas with lily of the valley shower. Miss Eileen F. White, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid. Her gown was princess style sky blue tulle, embroidered with matching blue. Her large picture hat, slippers and stockings and lace mitts were also of sky blue. She carried a bouquet of pale pink roses and delphinium, tied with a huge bow of pink.

Arthur L. Bennett of West Medford attended his brother as best man. The ushers were William F. Bennett and Walter S. Bennett of West Medford; Robert J. White, Jr., of Dedham, and John R. White of Arlington.

A wedding breakfast was held at 11:30 at the Women's City Club, Beacon street, Boston, at which relatives from New York, Washington, D. C., Vermont and Wyoming were among the guests. The young couple received many lovely gifts, including sums of money.

Mrs. Bennett is the daughter of Robert J. White of 3 Lorne road. She attended Arlington High School, Salem Normal and the New England Conservatory of Music. She is a member of the Arlington Woman's Club and was formerly connected with the Arlington Cooperative Bank. She is well known as a soprano soloist.

Mrs. Bennett is the son of Mrs. William F. Bennett of 4 Pine Ridge road, West Medford, and Little Neck, Ipswich. He attended Somerville High School and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is one of the partners in the Idea Supply Company of Somerville and Salem.

The wedding trip will be a cruise of the New England Coast in Mr. Bennett's yacht, "Speedwell", with Nantucket as the destination.

After July 20, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will be at home at "Juniper Crest", Middleton, for the summer months, and in Salem for the winter.

—o—
MCMANIS—LEACH

The marriage of Miss Edith Leach and George McManis of Lansdowne road, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman McManis, was solemnized in St. James church last Friday afternoon, with Rev. Fr. She performing the ceremony. The bride was attended by Mrs. Alice Costigan and the groom by his brother, William McManis. A reception followed at the Waban home of the bride's uncle, Alexander Roberts, followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McManis left on the boat for New York, Atlantic City and Baltimore. They will spend three months at Nantasket and after that will live in Arlington. They were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

HERREGOTDS—BIRMINGHAM

Miss Marie L. Birmingham, the daughter of Walter J. Birmingham of 11 Burtch street, and Leon E. Herregotds, the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Herregotds of 36 Upland road, Dorchester, were married Tuesday morning in St. Agnes church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Birmingham, was gowned in ivory satin with a tulle veil made cap style and trimmed with rhinestones and orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley and a maid of honor's gown was of pale pink chiffon and lace. She wore a hat of pink horsehair and ecru lace and carried pink and blue larkspur. Edgard Herregotds, cousin of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Ralph O'Neill and John Canniff. The organist was Edward P. Illingsworth and the soloists, Ralph O'Neill and Miss Helen Gibson.

Immediately after the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast and reception at the Beach Street Bungalow in Cambridge, which was decorated with pink and white rambler roses. Barry's orchestra played for dancing.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and the groom of Mechanic Arts High. The young couple have gone on a motor tour of the Middle West and Canada. They will make their home in Arlington.

News of the Women's Clubs

The Program Committee of the Arlington Woman's Club gave the club president, Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes, a hearty welcome at the meeting which they held yesterday morning in the directors' room of the Menotomy Trust Company. Mrs. Hawkes has just returned from Denver, where she attended the biennial convention of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs. She was enthusiastic over her trip and over the convention.

Mrs. Arthur E. Gilmour, vice-president of the club and chairman of the committee, attended the meeting in spite of the fact that she had the misfortune to fall last Friday and break her collarbone. This was the last meeting of the committee. Its business was satisfactorily disposed of so that the program for the coming season is practically complete. It shows that a most interesting year may be expected.

The Fly in the Ointment

AT this particular period of the year, in the schools and public halls of every American city, town, village and hamlet, there are gathering groups of admiring parents to watch their children go through the ceremony which celebrates the completion of some period of formal education.

A large majority of these people have never, themselves, had the opportunities offered these youngsters. And, as the tendency always is to overvalue the thing we do not possess, many of these folks look with an awe that almost approaches veneration upon their "educated" offspring. Surely with all this training, they will be abler and better men and women than their forebears.

But always there are a few skeptics, given to discovering the flies in the ointment, who shrug and ask, "will they?" And there are others who go still further and inquire, "Does this education really educate?"

The natural assumption, since today the average youngster spends years in formal study, where his ancestors spent weeks, is that the men of tomorrow will be much "brainier" than those of a few generations ago. It is rather discouraging, then, to pick up the work of some anthropologist and discover that the Cro-Magnon of from 10,000 to 15,000 years ago, who worked with crude stone implements and lived in caves, had a considerably larger brain than man of today, for the simple reason that he had to use his brain more than do we of today.

"It is probable that never before has the majority of the population of the world needed so little brain in order to secure food, shelter, protection, and to mate. One anthropologist goes so far as to state as his opinion that modern man does not use more than one-tenth of his brain power."

What, then, are all the pupils in the schools, and students in the colleges doing during all these preparatory years?

Well, they are learning. But learning is something different from education. Learning means merely becoming familiar with the thinking other people have done. Education means acquiring the ability to think, oneself.

A thousand years ago if a man wanted to know something about mining, let us say, he perhaps had to travel hundreds of miles, in the most arduous manner, surrounded by great dangers, to conduct his studies at the mines. If the modern student wishes to know about mining, all he has to do is to go to the university library, look through skilfully arranged index cards, and in a few minutes the best part of the world's information is spread before him. In a couple of hours more he has learned more than the man of ten centuries ago could have learned in half a year. The probability is, however, that he has done little or no real creative thinking.

The difference between the man of the dim past and the man of today is that the latter has at his instant disposal the stored-up mental wealth of thousands upon thousands of other men who have lived and worked and died. The poorest of us today are in the position of fabulously rich heirs, who, because of the treasure bequeathed to them, need hardly exert themselves. And the danger is the same—that of possible degeneration.

Because of the many intellectual tools lying at everyone's hand, work can be accomplished much more quickly. The only thing necessary is to learn the right tool to reach for. That is what makes our present day civilization possible.

There are those who think that education should be something else; who point to the fact that, even with our immensely greater knowledge, the greatest men of today are not the equals of the greatest men of 2000 to 2500 years ago; who ask if man is not becoming merely a tool, himself; who inquire if education should lead not merely to doing, but to being.

Well to add that orders for the booklets are coming so fast that we find it necessary to revise the estimate on how many to print every day. If you wish to get a booklet without fail it would be well to place your order before the forms are closed and the printing started.

A young chap from the Junior High School West came into the office the other day. He said his name was Frank Ramsay and he wanted to know all about the printing and newspaper business. Of course, we were able to tell him and show him all there was to know about ten minutes. But, seriously, it is a wonderful thing to have the children learn something about various businesses, even if it is only a smattering. It allows them to crystallize some idea in their own minds as to what their future occupations should be. The exponents of economy for the school system would probably recommend that all school children who contemplate a course in printing take a ten minute tour of the Advocate shop instead. The presses and the type which are now in the schools and being used in the course could then be thrown away.... or rather, sold.

If it were not for the fact that the part of the paper in which this column appears goes to press before the referendum on the high school question is concluded, it is not to be doubted that there would be plenty said here on that subject.

There are one or two things which might be said in advance. One is that for the first time in many years the Advocate has taken a stand on an issue other than prohibition. There appeared two or three very strong articles in the very last issue, telling everyone to vote "YES" on the referendum, and yet there are some who firmly believe that we said vote "NO". One person swore up and down that we were supporting the negative. He said, "Why it was as plain as the nose on your face in great big type on the front page—'Vote NO'." It looks as though we should have thrown out that paid ad on the front page on the grounds that it was fraudulent. Either that or we ought now to sue ourselves for fooling the public.

Of course, the above is hardly a parallel case, for the judge involved would not be winning the ten dollars anyway, but people would swear that he had said to Mr. MacAllister, who submitted the picture, "You send in a nice picture of me and my buddies, and I will see that you win the prize."

There was a period when Mr. MacAllister's pictures were the only ones submitted which were of any merit. Just imagine our embarrassment! But later the situation was saved when many other photographs came in, which were also very much in the running.

Of course, everyone knows by now that these pictures which have been submitted are to go into the booklet which the Advocate is getting out to commemorate the local Tercentenary celebration. And while we are on the subject it might be

V. F. W. HERE TO STAY

June 16, 1930

The Arlington Advocate, Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Our attention has been brought to an article in your paper of May 30th which concerns the American Legion's attitude towards the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the act of closing the carnival run by Arlington Post, 1775, Veterans of Foreign Wars. It states that the Legion men are firmly convinced that the Veterans should be abolished.

I would like to say to you and to your readers that the Veterans of Foreign Wars are here to stay. They have no quarrel with any other veteran organization and any other veteran organization should be willing to cooperate with the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

We, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, are a national as well as a State and local organization. We maintain at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, a Home for Widows and Orphans, which no other veteran organization does. The Department of Massachusetts, V. F. W., is the only State Department of the veteran organizations that maintains a paid Liaison Officer at the Veterans Bureau Regional Office in Boston. The Veterans of Foreign Wars are the only State Department of veterans who disburse relief at their headquarters in the State House. The Dept. of Mass., V. F. W., sends home at Christmas time all non-compensable disabled veterans and in the event that the veteran cannot travel to his home, his nearest of kin is brought to the hospital. The Veterans of Foreign Wars have men at the State House to appear at all times before any administrative head or commission in the State House.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are the only veteran organization containing World War men who are actively engaged in the work of trying to obtain a pension for World War Veterans.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are composed solely of men who saw active service on foreign soil or in foreign waters.

We would appreciate very much your printing this letter in your paper or your advice as to what you will do with it.

Sincerely yours,
FRANCIS X. COTTER,
Adjutant.

TRAFFIC SUGGESTION

Arlington, Mass.,
June 16, 1930.
106 Westminster Ave.
Arlington Advocate,
Arlington.

Editor, Dear Sir,

Would you be so kind as to print this plan of mine?

As you know how traffic conditions are in the centre of our town, I need not comment.

At Pleasant street, let it be the same as at present, make all traffic coming up Massachusetts avenue from Cambridge enter Franklin street towards Warren street.

Make all traffic coming up Broadway enter Franklin street towards Warren street. Let busses do same.

Make Franklin street one way to Warren street.

Make Warren street one way from Franklin street to Medford street.

Make Chestnut street one way to Mystic street.

Make Mystic street one way to Massachusetts avenue. Let traffic make a left or right turn without stopping. Make Alton street one way to Belmont street.

Make Medford street one way towards Medford as far as Chestnut street. Let trolley cars come up the same as before.

Now when they park on Massachusetts avenue, let machines park heading towards Medford.

When they park on Broadway let the machines park the same way, heading towards Somerville. When they get through shopping make them enter Alton street, which ought to be made one way as far as Belmont street.

In conclusion I will say that the drivers say the lights are terrible; that they do not work together.

Hoping to see this problem solved soon, I remain

WALTER P. BARTHELEMY.

P. S. This idea could be tried any day between the hours of four p.m. and eight p.m. without any cost.

REV. ARTHUR DAVIS ACCEPTS CALL TO KINGSTON CHURCH

Rev. Arthur D. Davis, the son of Rev. R. J. Davis, pastor of the Heights Baptist church, and Mrs. Davis, has accepted a call to the Federated church of Kingston, where he has been preaching unofficially for the past few weeks.

The church is made up of the Congregational and Baptist churches, who united recently. Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who was Althea Fog of Winchester, with their two children, Shirley Constance and Arthur D. Davis, Jr., moved into their Kingston home this week, and Mr. Davis will begin his pastorate officially on Sunday.

Mr. Davis graduated from Colgate Theological Seminary in 1924 and later spent a year and a half at Newton Theological School. He has been at the Arlington home of his parents for his vacations and has made many friends here. He was ordained in 1927 and for a year and eight months held a pastorate in Troy, Vermont.

Since last September, he has been employed as a milkman, delivering milk, collecting bills and soliciting customers, and on Sundays has preached wherever his services were needed.

There are one or two things which might be said in advance.

One is that for the first time in many years the Advocate has taken a stand on an issue other than prohibition.

There appeared two or three very strong articles in the very last issue, telling everyone to vote "YES" on the referendum, and yet there are some who firmly believe that we said vote "NO".

One person swore up and down that we were supporting the negative.

He said, "Why it was as plain as the nose on your face in great big type on the front page—'Vote NO'."

It looks as though we should have thrown out that paid ad on the front page on the grounds that it was fraudulent.

Either that or we ought now to sue ourselves for fooling the public.

There was a period when Mr. MacAllister's pictures were the only ones submitted which were of any merit.

Just imagine our embarrassment!

But later the situation was

graphs came in, which were also very much in the running.

INSURANCESmoke or Oil Burner Property Damage Insurance

We are equipped to meet the growing demand for this form of insurance protection. The policy covers on buildings and/or contents against all direct loss or damage to the property insured caused by oil burner used in premises for heating purposes. Oil burners frequently fail to operate properly, filling buildings with heavy smoke, causing a smudge deposit which is a loss not covered under the regular fire insurance contract. Only property using the oil burner approved by the Underwriters Laboratory will be considered. Rate on risk of ordinary possibilities is .40. Minimum premium, $10.00 for one year. Policy to contain a 25% co-insurance clause. We can quote lower rates for higher co-insurance.

Story of the Library

In 1902 and for several years, valuable books and magazines were given us but the donors are too numerous to mention here owing to the length of this paper. The remaining history may not be written in detail but from 1903-22 our assistants were the Misses Myra de N. Wood, Caroline D. Higgins, Marjorie Wood, M. Linda Black, Matilda K. Leetich, Mildred L. Marsh, Eva M. Smith, Nina L. Winn, Gertrude C. Rideout, Ruth Sampson, E. Louise Holt, Ella Sampson, Grace M. Champlin, Josephine D. Baker, Jessie Frost, Marietta Bell and Grace N. Ogilvie. Boy helpers were Arthur E. Freeman, Howard C. Marsh, Richard H. Bird, William S. Black, John E. Cronin, John W. Gowen, Phillip T. Robinson, Herbert L. Collins, Harry N. Masson, Patrick W. Canniff, Edward M. Breen who was a trusted Branch Messenger and was drowned. Proctor Michelson succeeded him. Janitors were William T. Canniff, T. W. Hurley and James Sullivan in the Main Library, Michael E. Callahan in Heights Branch and Henry T. Scannell in East Branch.

Loss of $600

In 1904 the Library was greatly crippled by a loss of $600. in its income, largely due to a cut in the appropriation. The Trustees had only $250. to spend for books that year but in 1905 our appropriation of $3000. was restored to us. A contract was made with the Booklovers' Library to supply 50 volumes of the latest fiction to be exchanged for others when desired. This was continued through 1906 both for the Main Library and the Heights Branch increasing the circulation in both places.

Miss Deborah L. Cutler resigned July 31, 1905. She had been employed evenings as a Reading Room attendant since 1891, taking lively interest in the Library in her declining years. She passed away in 1912.

In 1906 the Trustees regretted to announce the withdrawal from the Board of Mr. Joseph C. Holmes after sixteen years of faithful service. Mr. Cyrus E. Dallin of Arlington Heights was chosen to succeed him. The Report says "Reference work is carried on as usual under the direction of Miss Baston, who not only endeavors to assist all applicants, but acts in co-operation with teachers of the schools, sending them books for use in the school rooms, and keeping the reading tables at the Library well stocked with books on special topics." Miss Louise Marsh at this time was doing good work in the Children's Room. Interesting the smaller ones with pictures, puzzles, etc.

On the 11th of October it was our privilege to entertain the Massachusetts Library Club. Mr. S. C. Bushnell, the Chairman of the Board, made a brief address of welcome at the morning session which was held in the Unitarian Church where a collation was served in the vestry. In the afternoon, Mr. J. T. Trowbridge gave a reading from his works. We took great pleasure in receiving our many guests at the Library which was much admired.

Centennial Celebration

In the Centennial celebration on the first of June, 1907, the Library was represented by a float containing two fine paintings of the old Adams house, which stood on the corner of the Avenue and Mystic street. It was while the Library was located here that it became a Free Public Library. The building was opened in the afternoon, receiving 300 visitors. From June 1-10, an exhibit of photographs of old houses and portraits with articles of historic value was arranged by Arlington Historical Society to celebrate the town's centennial anniversary.

The Board was pleased to receive in 1907, a photograph from Mr. Trowbridge as former Trustee and keenly interested in the Library. It was framed and hung in the Catalogue Room later. Mr. Trowbridge passed away on February 12, 1916, aged 88 years.

In August, Miss Louise V. Marsh resigned from the Children's Room after rendering very satisfactory service in the Library for 15 years. Miss Edith C. Rice was given her position and as time went on, she succeeded in interesting the children to a remarkable degree. It is possible to mention only the framed collection of autographs which hangs in the room. They were sent by favorite authors to the children in response to their requests for them.

The subscription to the Booklovers' Library being withdrawn at the end of 1906, thirty books, fiction and non-fiction were sent to the Heights Branch from the Main Library for circulation beginning in June, 1907. They were exchanged for others occasionally. Through the kindness of the School Committee the Heights Branch was moved temporarily from Crescent Hall to one of the unused rooms in the Locke Schoolhouse, August 30, 1909. It had to be moved again in 1913.

Death of Mr. Robbins

The Report for 1910 recorded the death of Mr. Winfield Robbins at Nice, France, November 5th, 1910. It said that "The pictures which have been framed and hung upon the walls are only a part of Mr. Robbins' gift, and will excite the gratitude and pride of every citizen. Arlington is indeed fortunate to be the owner of this magnificent collection." Bronze busts of Washington and Franklin, small bronze statues of Dante and Virgil, the Firefly statue and 10 bronze medallions of American authors also came from Mr. Robbins. A plaster cast of the Madonna and Child was presented June 30, 1910, for the Children's Room by Miss Ethel L. Wellington. The Report says: "On the 6th of September, 1910, our janitor, Mr. Edward Mears, passed away after a long and faithful service of nearly 18 years. Mr. William T. Canniff was appointed in his place."

In July, 1911, the Library was opened continuously from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M., except on Sundays and in August. The circulation was thereby increased. By the will of Mr. Winfield Robbins, the generous gift of $25,000. was made to care for and increase his splendid collection of prints.

In 1912 it was voted to adopt the "Postal Reserve System" whereby a book will be reserved for a person by paying the cost of a postal card. On April 15th the bust of Mr. Winfield Robbins was placed in the Rotunda. It is made of white Carrara marble, pedestal of carved Proetto green marble, by Spilmach, sculptor, Rome. On May 9th, Mrs. James A. Bailey, Jr., presented a handsome Sevres urn with pedestal of Mexican onyx marble.

In the Report for 1913 it was said—"After many years of able and faithful service, Mr. E. Nelson Blake resigned from the Board in October, the vacancy being filled December 8, 1913 by the election of Mr. William A. Muller. In parting with one of their number, who has never failed to do his share of their common work, the Trustees wish to put on record their sense of the value of Mr. Blake's services to the citizens of the Town."

As the School Committee required the use of the large room which they had courteously placed at the service of the Branch Library at the Heights, it was moved in October, 1913, into smaller quarters in the same building. It was too small for a Reading Room but has served for the delivery of books. We hope that the day is not far distant when a suitable place will be provided for the Branch. At the Main Library, a long needed telephone was installed this year.

In response to a request from Mr. Scully, Supt. of Schools, that we should instruct the High School pupils about the use of the Library, Miss Baston gave a series of talks to different pupils in the forenoon, beginning in January, 1913. A teacher came with them.

A Visit to Washington

The American Library Association founded in 1876 has held annual conferences since in different parts of the country and abroad. We were able to attend only a few of these meetings on account of the expense but in May, 1914, I enjoyed going to Washington, D. C. The Massachusetts Library Club, meeting generally in this state, has given us many opportunities to visit interesting places in New England and to profit by information and discussion. As one result, monthly Staff Meetings, started by the Librarian and her assistants, were continued for a time in the building from 9 to 10 A. M.

In 1915, the Trustees ordered of Mr. Doane, photographer, a beautiful volume of photographs of the Arlington Pageant of 1913 and in the next year Mr. W. E. Marshall presented a handsome set of 64 Pageant Postal cards from the Litchfield Studio. These will be of great and increasing value in the future.

MISS MYRTLE MOWER GIVEN MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Myrtle Mower was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. T. Mower, 106 Hillside Avenue, Tuesday evening, by the Campfire Girls and the Sunday School teachers of the First Methodist church, as well as other friends, thirty in all. Logs had been arranged in the centre of the parlor to represent a campfire and here the many lovely gifts were concealed. In the dining room where refreshments were served there were patriotic decorations and a miniature bride and groom standing before the figure of a Campfire Girl whose blessing they were supposed to receive.

During the evening the company enjoyed piano and vocal solos, rendered by James Frederick Roberts, formerly of the American Opera Company.

Miss Mower's marriage to Milton V. Webb has been set for the twenty-eighth of June.

CONGREGATIONALISTS CALL

Directors for the Congregational Education Society and Chairman of the Editorial Committee for "The Congregationalist".

His wife, Laura B. Barber, has always been actively identified with his work and it is expected that she will prove a great asset to the Arlington church. She is a native of South Manchester, Conn., graduated from the high school there, and from the New Britain State Normal. She taught for several years in New Jersey and Connecticut. They have two sons—Laurence Luther/Jr., who is just finishing his freshman year in the Nashua High School, and Clarence Howard, eleven, who will enter junior high next fall.

Mr. Barber read his resignation from the Nashua church last Sunday. A little of the regret that is felt not only by his parishioners, but by the whole city, where he has been active in civic affairs, and recently, especially in fire relief work, is expressed in the following editorial quoted from the Nashua Telegraph.

Rev. Mr. Barber Resigns

"Rev. Laurence L. Barber came to Nashua during the War period, succeeding Dr. Daniel I. Gross in the pastorate of Pilgrim Congregational church. A comparatively young man in the ministry, he immediately proved himself of unusual capacity for his work, both in the pulpit and in the far flung lines of pastoral activity and organization. His sermons have attracted wide attention and drawn generally large congregations to the church services, particularly when they have been based on some phase of an especially public interest, such as an Armistice day anniversary, Thanksgiving, Christmas, the New Year, Memorial day, and so on. Each of the departments of the parish work has developed steadily and conspicuously during the long years of his pastorate. Mr. Barber has identified himself with affairs of community interest and progress. A close student of history, he has done much to further the efforts of the Nashua Historical society, and has come to be looked upon as an authority in matters concerning colonial New Hampshire, and the organization of the state government immediately following the Revolution, as well as in Indian lore. Another phase of his many sided activities has been his studies and talks on the great American poets. He has written some delightful poems himself. During his pastorate here he has been chosen to the directorates of the important denominational Boards, the youngest man in the denomination to be thus honored.

"It is therefore with nothing but deep regret that the news is recorded that his resignation from the Nashua pastorate has been presented. In accepting the call to the large church and wider field in Arlington, Mass., the best wishes, not alone of his immediate parish, but those of all who have come in contact with him while in Nashua, will accompany him, and his family. The call to the church in Arlington is a deserved promotion for a most able and efficient servant of the church."

LARGE AUDIENCE APPLAUDS PARK PLAYERS IN "ACE HIGH"

Defy Fate and Produce Play on Friday the Thirteenth.
Critic Gives His Honest Opinion.

Due to the reputation which the Park Players have already established and also to a rather unusual campaign of publicity, "Ace High", directed by William O. Partridge, which was presented by that organization in the parish house of the Park Avenue Congregational church, Friday evening, drew a considerable house in spite of the season, the date (Friday the 13th), the heat and the humidity.

This is the long heralded, frank "professional" criticism. A critic on a local paper dealing with an all amateur cast is not at liberty to be too harsh or too critical, but that follows will be the truth as the local critic saw things.

Those who saw the play, especially those who had friends and relatives on the stage, enjoyed the play to the limit. There were plenty of laughs and there was room for some very capable acting. This last was capitalized to the fullest by at least three members of the cast.

One cannot help thinking, however, that the choice of play was a bit unfortunate. It was not one which everyone could enjoy, in spite of the comedy. A good percentage of the audience was composed of children. Most of these could not appreciate the play to the fullest, and if they did they should not have. It presented to them a most unfavorable picture of American family life, and even the older members of the audience, who have probably experienced periods of continual wrangling among the various members of a family, grew rather tired of the quarreling before the end of the play.

There is still another criticism of the play itself which comes to mind. The gag which has the henpecked husband suddenly come to life in the final act and dominate his family, as he should have been doing before, is almost as hackneyed as the three foot kiss in the final fadeout of a motion picture.

The president of the Park Players explains that his organization was decidedly limited in the choice of a play. The production came at the tail of the season, and therefore could not be too expensive. It was necessary, then, to pick a play which called for only a reasonable royalty.

That explains a great many things.

Randall Snow played the part of the crook who wanted to cross the bridge into respectability.

He showed considerable improvement over his last effort in the "Flatter My Word". His part in the latter play was not as well suited to him. It might be suggested, however, that Mr. Snow would do still better if he stuck to straight comedy parts.

One of the outstanding performances of the production was rendered by John Gruber as the down-trodden husband. He was very good while he was being downtrodden, but he was in his element when he reared up and asserted his rights.

There was a good deal of strength in his portrayal, especially when he was shaking one of his daughters. Her shoulders showed it.

Janet Folsom, as the shrewish wife, did very well with her part, but it was not one which called for or allowed much versatility. She deserves a much better one in the next production.

Betty Pierce was cast in the part which the audience was expected to love to hate, and she made the most of it. There is a young lady who shows considerable training and talent. Her acting was exceedingly fine when she was discovered as the thief of the $280. It is expected that the audience would like to see her as the ingenue in the near

PARTY GIVEN IN HONOR OF CALVARY METHODIST CHOIR

Members of the choir of Calvary Methodist church were the guests of honor at a party held last Friday evening in the church vestry. A delicious chicken dinner was served at tables attractively decorated, as was the rest of the room, with peonies, rhododendrons and roses. Mrs. E. C. Hathaway was chairman of the committee that served the dinner, and assisting her were Mrs. William Hunter, Mrs. R. K. Estelow, Mrs. Herbert W. Hackert, Mrs. R. J. Kinney, Mrs. John MacNeal and Mrs. William Rich mond.

An entertainment followed the supper. Of this Carl S. Nelson was chairman. Mrs. Stella Nichols sang solos; the Misses Isabel and Marion Miller, duets; William Lovejoy, tenor solos and Raymond Farr, bass solos. Mrs. Hathaway contributed the specialty song, "Sing You Sinners", and Mrs. Kinney, "Taint No Sin". Ellsworth Massey played piano solos and Dr. William Shaw, pastor of the church; Theodore Barrows and Miss Isabel Miller spoke briefly.

The jolly evening concluded with games. In one of these the men trimmed hats, the prize for speed and style going to William Hunter.

Mrs. Nichols received the prize for the best outline of an animal embroidered on cloth.

The wrong road never yet led to the right place.

Beware of the advice of a discouraged man.

WIND INSTRUMENTS, VIOLINS AND CELLOS IN RECITAL

Under the direction of Walter Angus, teacher of string instruments, and Hassler Einzig, teacher of wind instruments in the Arlington schools, the pupils of these classes gave a very delightful joint recital last Friday afternoon in the High School auditorium.

The numbers by the string classes opened with "An Old English Dance", a double duet by the Misses Dorothy Johnston, Martha Easton, Winifred Stevens and Betty McCausland.

This was followed by "Sweet and Low" in three parts, played by the first year violin and cello group.

"In Poland", by Wecker, violin solo, by Paul Burke; "Speed Our Republic", a march played by the second year violin group; "Fancy", a cello solo by Miss Marjorie Curtis, a first year student; "Junior Waltz", a first year trio, played by Miss Phyllis Cowdry and Wilbur Hall; "Waltz", by Wecker, a violin solo, played by John Stearns, and "A Cradle Song", by Rossau, in two parts, played by a first year group.

This part of the program concluded with a difficult number—"The Battle Hymn of the Republic", played with detached bowings by first and second year violins and cellos.

The brass and wood wind classes opened their program with an ensemble, "Fortuna Overture" by Zamecnik.

Next, Alvin Robinson played a trumpet solo with band accompaniment, "Romance", by Williams. Then, seven trumpeters of the first year class played "Italian Hymn", Giardini, a Folk Tune, and "Now the Day Is Over", Barnaby. The ensemble closed the program with Solo Dance, "Anthony's Victory", by Guenwald.

The annual meeting of the Bay State Historical League will be held in the historic Lee Mansion, Marblehead, Saturday, June 21, at two o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected and all business which may be presented will be transacted at this time. Any further information may be obtained from Miss Marion E. Shirley, Secretary, Arl. 1934-W.

Charter Cavalcade All That Was Advertised

The Charter Cavalcade which passed through Arlington on its way from Salem to Boston last Friday afternoon was all that it was advertised. The mounted band was splendid, the floats were magnificent and the horses were spirited. But it was viewed by a mere handful of people in Arlington.

It was through the efforts of the local Tercentenary Committee that the cavalcade came through Arlington at all. It was advertised in this paper that the procession would take place about ten o'clock on Saturday morning. Last week's paper announced that the cavalcade would arrive at five o'clock on the afternoon of Friday. And the parade finally emerged from Mill street at six twenty-five. It is not surprising that there was practically no crowd.

The cavalcade came over Mystic street, crossed Summer street to Mill, up Mill street and down Massachusetts avenue, where it stopped before the Town Hall. "Governor Winthrop" stepped down from the "Arabella" to greet Chairman Charles A. Hardy and Selectmen Wyman, Gott and Hauser. The column then moved off down Massachusetts avenue and on to Medford.

BURNS-BLAKE WEDDING IS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

One of the most brilliant events of the social season took place last Saturday morning, when Miss Alice Blake of 377 Highland avenue, Malden, was married to Professor John J. Burns of the Harvard Law School faculty, at St. Paul's church, Cambridge.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Augustine Hickey, pastor of St. Paul's, who afterwards celebrated the nuptial mass. Joseph Ecker, director of the choir at St. Paul's, sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" and Miss Driscoll, at the organ, played the Wedding March from Lohengrin as a processional.

Members of the clergy seated within the chancel included Rev. Daniel Herlihy of St. Mary's Brookline, cousin of the groom; Rev. George Lawless of Cohasset, cousin of the bride; Rev. Fr. Mullin of Old Orchard, Me.; Rev. William Gunn and Rev. Richard S. McShane of St. Paul's.

Miss Mary R. Burns, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor, and Charles F. Burns, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers included Jeremiah Mahoney, Boston attorney; Thomas Rush of Cambridge, Edward D. Burns of Arlington, brother of the groom; Charles Hamilton, Cambridge attorney; Leo Daley of Andover, cousin of the bride, and former Harvard football star, and John Sullivan of Cambridge.

OPEN DOOR TO HAPPINESS—
OWN A HOME OF YOUR OWN

Today in the back of your mind you have a picture of your future home—a home where you and your family will find the happiness of a complete and full life. Today more than ever before, Arlington offers you homes that for rare beauty and ideal location, cannot be duplicated in any other section of the country. Whether or not you find the happiness you seek this year depends on you and you alone.

Carter Bros., 251 Pleasant Street, are developers of Jason Heights. When thinking of fine homes it is only natural that Jason Heights should come into your thoughts. It is beautifully located on Pleasant Street. It will be worth your while to drive out there and look over the beautiful homes.

MOVING MADE PLEASANT
BY WILLIAM G. COLLINS

Moving time is here again but the exodus from the old home to the new will not be as difficult as in other years, if William G. Collins does the work.

Moving household goods, like furniture and pianos is a specialty with this firm, which maintains a fleet of vans and a crew of drivers and helpers, who are dependable and experienced in handling goods entrusted to their care.

Mr. Collins is located at 1847 Massachusetts Avenue, Lexington, and the telephone number is Lex. 0997. If one wishes to move at any time, this firm is in a position to supply the vans and crews for the job, and the patron is assured of first class service.

The covered van will protect your furnishings from sudden showers, and they are assured of proper handling, so they will not be marred and scratched while in transit. The careful manner in which goods are arranged in the vans prevents their being jostled or shaken about while in the process of moving, and every effort is made to assure their safe transportation.

In moving times there are other things to think about than the actual care and worries of moving, and these may be left to a reliable moving firm like that of William G. Collins, if the person who is moving will be guided by the satisfactory experience of others who have availed themselves of the service of this reliable firm.

THE AGE OLD URGE

One of the first manifestations of the trend toward civilization was the act of commemorating the dead. Even in the hearts of our shaggy, stone age forefathers was the urge to build rude piles of stones over the graves of their forebears for protection against the ravages of wild beasts and to mark the last place of rest. With crude stone implements they carved symbols on the rough boulders to immortalize lives and deeds, and the little knowledge we have about these pre-historic races of men has been given to us through memorials they left.

Today that primitive desire to perpetuate memory exists in finer form. No longer is there need for protection of the graves—memorials are erected for commemoration alone. No more, defending heaps of boulders, but in their stead, beautiful examples of modern memorial art.

The age old significance of memorials has not changed—the beautiful tributes that are protected today will mark forever the last resting place of worthy lives, carrying messages of love and devotion to posterity.

Roessler & Sons, Inc., 117 Salem Street, Woburn, manufacturer and design memorials of the highest class and guarantee all their work. They have recently made and erected such memorials as that at Woburn Center, Odd Fellows Memorial in Malden, and the Spanish War Veterans Memorial in Stoneham.

Roessler & Son, Inc., have the best equipment and the most modern plant this side of Boston. You may telephone them at Woburn 1184.

CALL REED FARMS FOR FINE MILK AND CREAM

There's health in milk from Ayrshire cows. Its qualities represent the result of successful effort by leading agriculturists in Scotland and America to secure a product perfectly adapted to the needs of the human body. The Ayrshire cow, developed in an environment requiring marked vigor and stamina, seems endowed with the ability to transmit the essence of healthfulness and vitality to those who drink her milk.

Ayrshire milk is perfectly proportioned in its nutrients, being neither too high in any ingredient nor yet deficient in any necessary element. It contains four percent of butterfat. It needs no modifying, no diluting with water to "thin it down", no adding of cream because it is "blue". Nature modifies it. The goodness extends from the top of the bottle to the bottom. When the cream is allowed to rise, it is smooth, delightful in taste, really "creamy", and the milk below the cream line is pure white and rich in flavor and food value.

Physicians and dietitians recommend Ayrshire milk, especially for invalids and babies.

Reed Farms, owned by F. H. Reed & Son, Lowell Street, have an accredited herd of pure-bred registered cows. They sell pasteurized and Raw Ayrshire milk.

To obtain the best results milk should be consumed in liberal quantities. Drink more but be sure it is pure and of the best quality. One way to make sure of this is to order your milk from F. H. Reed & Son, telephone Arlington 2175-R or W.

JOHNSON'S ICE CREAM
FAVORITE IN ARLINGTON

With the coming of the summer months and the soaring temperature, attention centers once again on ice cream. There is nothing so palatable on a warm summer's evening.

With so many concerns making ice cream nowadays, it is well to consider the kind one buys. Johnson's Ice Cream, manufactured by the J. B. Johnson Ice Cream Company, Cambridge, under the most sanitary conditions and with modern facilities, is one of the better grades. The trade mark of this quality product is: "It's Johnson's Ice Cream". Only quality materials are used. The milk and flavoring extracts and cane sugar are the best and purest.

Ice cream was first introduced in America in 1777. It became popular during the administration of President Madison, whose daughter served it at White House social functions.

It has been stated that milk from 1,333,333 cows would be necessary to make the ice cream used in the United States, together with 240,000,000 pounds of sugar for sweetening.

Serve plenty of ice cream and serve it often. There is no finer dessert and it goes especially well with warm weather lunches. As for parties—well, no party is complete without it.

Johnson's Ice Cream is Arlington's favorite and you have only to try it to understand why.

DRY CLEANING SOLVES
OUR SUMMER PROBLEM

Now that there are warm, muggy days, when clothes become damp and odorous through perspiration, the dry cleaners are playing a big part in keeping all kinds of garments clean and fresh. The Modern Cleaners and Tailors are building a reputation for cleaning garments clean. They have been serving the public for ten years. People get the habit of patronizing the dry cleaners during the summer, for it is then that the real value of dry cleaning is seen.

The problem of every person in this hot weather is keeping clothes fresh and clean. This must be done by the business man of breeding, the society woman, the resorter, the man about town, to maintain that clean-cut, refined, and businesslike appearance.

For your next bit of work call the Modern Cleaners and Tailors at 134 and 464 Mass. Avenue. Their phone numbers are ARI. 5970 and ARI. 4219.

LARGE AUDIENCE APPLAUDS
PARK PLAYERS IN "ACE HIGH"

future, however, for she is a beautiful girl.

The work of Pauline Bennett, who played the part of her father's daughter, was also outstanding. She had a delightful little way of delivering her comedy lines. She also showed herself as a past master in making the most of her exits. She should be a fixture in the Park productions.

The work of the rest of the cast was adequate, even though some inexperience was betrayed. All showed possibilities with further work and study. Edwin Collier was the son of the family. Forrest Bezzanson made a good young lover. Charles Folsom was the butler and Doris Cowan was the bride of lowly birth. Bernice Hayes made good a lady of the world as could be expected from one of her age, for she was a bit miscast. But in spite of that, she was able to prove that she was capable of doing excellent work in a part more suited to her.

Yes, as amateur productions go, "Ace High" was most enjoyable. The Park Players are destined to draw larger and larger crowds as time goes on. They should, however, be more careful about picking up cues in the future.

—Muriel E. Moody of 9 Harvard street has just completed one year's work at the Graduate School of Tufts College as a candidate for the degree of Master of Arts. This summer Miss Moody will be enrolled in the Graduate School of Education of Harvard Summer School, where she intends to continue her professional studies.
